Asbestos Strike Ends as Miners Agree to Work

Archbishop of Quebec Obtains Signatures for Settlement

ASBESTOS, July 1 (Friday) (CP).—The long and bitter asbestos strike came to an end early today. The news was announced by Gerard Picard, president of the Canadian Catholic Confederation of Labor.

The strike-over announcement came early today when close to 2,000 employees of the Canadian Johns-Manville Company voted to return to work tomorrow.

Employees of the Johns-Manville Company—the largest of a half-dozen firms involved in the walkout in the Eastern townships of Asbestos—were the last of an estimated 5,000 workers, who left their jobs February 13 for a 15-cent-an-hour wage increase. The strikers asked that their basic hourly wage rate be increased to $1.

Mr. Picard announced the settlement was negotiated by Most Rev. Maurice Roy, Archbishop of Quebec, who obtained the signature of company and union officials.

BANDS PLAY
 Mr. Picard said that scenes of rejoicing in this asbestos mining town were breaking out spontaneously as the news of the end of the strike was announced. Bands were out and people were in the streets.

Mr. Picard announced that the workers were going back to work with a guarantee of a ten-cent an hour pay increase, a guarantee that there would be no discrimination against any of the strikers except those found guilty before the courts, a guarantee that all employees will be re-employed by the company and a guarantee that the men will retain their seniority rights.

The wage increase will bring the basic pay rate to 95 cents an hour instead of $1 as originally asked. The union said the company agreed to the re-certification of the Federation of Asbestos Workers and also agreed to arbitration of other points not settled by an arbitration tribunal presided by Judge Thomas Tremblay of Quebec.

Strong Appeal Delivered For Car-Testing Station

Strong appeal for establishment of a three-lane car-testing station in Victoria was made to the police commission yesterday by Sgt. Brooke Douglas, head of the newly-formed traffic department.

"Accidents attributable to mechanical defects could be materially lessened if a testing station was in operation in this area," said Sgt. Douglas in a comprehensive report to the commission, whose members requested information on all phases of the proposal. Commission will study the report before the next meeting.

DEFECTS UNCOVERED
 Past records have shown that mechanical checks made on the highway by police officers bring to light the fact that one out of three cars is in need of adjustment to bring it up to the limit of safe operation, according to the traffic division head. He added that records also show that many motorists leave these adjustments unattended unless placed under some compulsion to have the defects remedied.

"In view of this fact, it is to be hoped that a car-testing station can be established in Victoria," he stated.

MUST GIVE SERVICE
 Sgt. Douglas warned, however, that great thought should be given to controlling and supervising adequately the testing station so that the motoring public receive the service they expect.

Vehicle registrations for passenger cars and commercial vehicles to date number about 27,500 for Victoria and district, he reported. He suggested the three-lane station because a normal flow of traffic through the lanes would be about 31,000 cars and trucks in a six-month period, checking each vehicle semi-annually.

The sergeant's report outlined costs, recommendations, and included a sketch of a proposed station. Cost of equipment (not installed) for a two-lane station would be $6,717, and for a three-lane unit, $9,198. Other costs to be considered, he said, would be that of a building and approaches, concrete floor, lighting, heating, air ducts for escaping fumes, and insurance.

STAFF REQUIREMENTS
 A two-lane station would require 18 employees and a three-lane system, 22 employees. He suggested fees of $1.50 for two checks in one year, and 25 cents for rejections on each additional visit.

According to information Sgt. Douglas received from Col. Eric Pepler, deputy attorney-general, Victoria has the power to operate a testing station under a section of the Motor Vehicle Act.

"With respect to cars from outside municipalities using city streets, Col. Pepler suggested that the city could draft a by-law prohibiting such vehicles to operate on city streets unless displaying a testing station sticker. Under such a by-law the municipality would have the power to compel the municipality-registered vehicles to proceed forthwith to the testing station.

"Col. Pepler suggests the municipalities be informed and some mutual plan worked out so they can draw up their own by-laws in their districts to require registered owners of cars to report at a given time to the city-vehicle testing station, at the prescribed fee," reported Sgt. Douglas.

MONOPOLY CHARGE FILED
 CHICAGO, June 30 (AP).—The Federal Government today added the huge Du Pont industrial empire to a growing list of large companies it has charged with monopolizing United States business.

A civil suit filed in Federal District Court accused the E. I. Du Pont de Nemours Company, Wilmington, Del., of monopolistic practices and asked that it be divorced from General Motors Corporation and the United States Rubber Company of New York.

The suit charges the three firms violated the Sherman Anti-Trust Act by making secret rebates and by dividing several fields of manufacturing among themselves to eliminate competition.

It asked that the Du Pont Company and members of the Du Pont family be ordered to sell their controlling stock holdings in General Motors and the United States Rubber Company.

In addition, the suit seeks cancellation of all existing contracts between Du Pont, General Motors and United States Rubber relating to sales of products, grants of licenses, agreements to license under patents, and agreements providing for the exchange of know-how.

Filing of the suit had little effect on the market value of Du Pont stock. It closed today at 46½, up a quarter from yesterday's close.

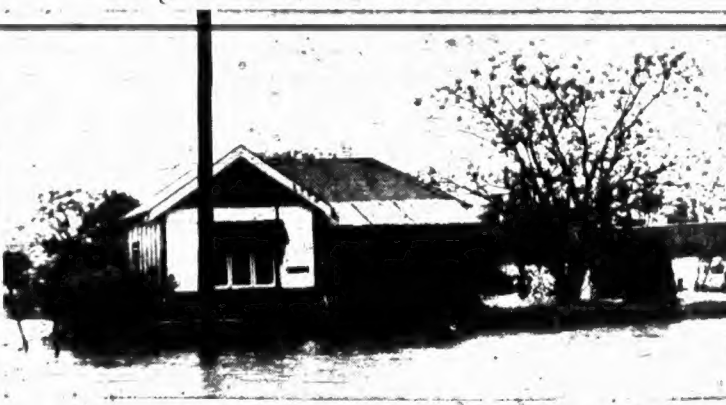

DENIES ACCUSATION
 In Wilmington, Del., Crawford H. Greenwalt, president of the $1,585,000,000 concern, denied the Government accusation that Du Pont's relationships with the other firms is "illegal and detrimental to the interests of the people."

"On the contrary," said Greenwalt, "these relationships have served the public interest in a conspicuous way."

Melville Williams, chief of the Anti-Trust Division in Chicago, said the suit resulted from a grand jury's investigation of the Du Pont empire.

The Du Pont Company, largest maker in the United States of industrial chemicals, manufactures some 1,300 different lines.

Drought in Canada, Floods in Australia

While many parts of Canada have had the hottest, driest June on record, Australia has seen record rain and floods. Here is a home near Sydney where flood waters have marooned hundreds of homes, caused six deaths, ruined thousands of acres of farm land.

Slovakians Hurl Stones At Czechs

PRAGUE, June 30 (AP).—Czech tourists returning to Prague said today they were cursed and stoned by Slovaks who apparently suspected them of selling out to Czechoslovakia's Communist Government.

These travelers said that while passing through the Tatras Mountains their Prague bus was stoned by Slovaks who shouted insults at them.

The tourists interpreted these acts as a sample of the anger in staunchly Roman Catholic Slovakia over the Prague Government's efforts to throttle the church.

MARTIAL LAW
 This anger had resulted in two days of rioting in various Slovak communities which impelled the Communist regime to impose martial law for some 60 hours.

Roman Catholic and diplomatic sources in Prague reported loyal Communist groups in the spreading church-state conflict. They said that in the town of Nitra, in Southwest Slovakia, 20 persons were injured and one policeman was badly beaten. The Communist Ministry of Interior in Prague did not deny the reports. Instead, the Information Ministry said:

"The Ministry of Interior says it has no official report on these matters. It gives no confirmation nor is there any official denial."

DETAILS LACKING
 Details of the clashes were lacking because of Government restrictions and intermittent telephone lines. It is known, however, that tension has been rising in Slovakia during the long church-state fight.

Berlin Traffic Rolling Again

BERLIN, July 1 (Friday) (AP).—Although elevated trains and traffic rolled again today on West Berlin's railway tracks after six weeks of strike-enforced idleness, the first elevated trains began moving in the Western sector of the city at 4 a.m. (9 p.m. Thursday C.D.T.).

The strike of West German anti-Communist railway workers ended Tuesday but the Russian management held off starting service on the grounds that repairs to tracks and installations were necessary.

Western Berlin newspapers reported heavy detachments of railway police from the Russian zone were posted at several stations in West Berlin.

The strike, which began when German workers demanded payment in West marks from the Russian operators of the railroad, ended with a compromise agreement.

STRIKE CAUSES NEW CUTS IN ELECTRICITY
SYDNEY, Australia, July 1 (Friday) (AP).—New, drastic cuts in the use of electricity were ordered for New South Wales today as the general strike of Australia's 23,000 Communist-led miners entered its fifth day.

Hopes of settlement centre on talks here between the Australian Council of Trade Unions and the Miners' Federation, but Idria Williams, the miners' president, said the conference is not likely to end the work stoppage immediately.

Already some 550,000 other workers have been thrown into unemployment by a ban imposed on use of coal, electricity and gas by industry.

Gas companies in Sydney, worst hit among the state capitals, have coal for only ten days output, even at the present level of use which restricts cooking to a couple of hours a day.

Details of the clashes were lacking because of Government restrictions and intermittent telephone lines. It is known, however, that tension has been rising in Slovakia during the long church-state fight.

Aid-Plan Countries In Trade Accord

New Note Sent Russia

WASHINGTON, June 30 (INS).—The United States sent a new note to Russia tonight pointing out that Moscow is obliged to join in investigating peace treaty violations in Hungary, Bulgaria and Romania.

The note followed by two weeks Russian rejection of a United States request that the Soviet Union aid in holding the three Red satellite powers to their peace obligations.

Washington has charged that the Budapest, Sofia, and Bucharest governments allowed their peace treaties to be denied religious and political freedom to their citizens.

The charges were prompted by the persecutions of Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty in Hungary and religious persecutions in Bulgaria and Romania.

A State Department spokesman said that Great Britain was joining the United States in the new request, although sending a separate note.

TEXT UNAVAILABLE
 The spokesman said that the text of the American note would not be available in Washington until later.

Hungary, Bulgaria and Romania were World War allies of Germany. When they were defeated and granted peace treaties, the treaties stipulated that the United States, Britain, Russia and France should jointly see that they lived up to the terms by which they were allowed to make peace.

Under Secretary of State Webb announced on June 15 that Moscow had declined to fulfill its obligation to supervise the execution of the treaties. Moscow claimed that the three Red vassal powers had not violated their treaties.

Strike Near PASADENA, Cal., June 30 (INS).—One hundred thousand bus riders faced loss of transportation at 4 a.m. tomorrow morning when drivers in Pasadena, Glendale and five adjoining communities will go out on strike.

The drivers seek $1.47 an hour for a 40-hour week, against the $1.35 per hour for a 48-hour week they are now being paid.

Forty-Hour Week Trial Asked by Police Union
 Institution of a 40-hour week on a trial basis was asked by the Victoria Police Federal Union at a meeting with the police commission yesterday.

"The men feel they are not asking for anything to which they are not entitled," declared Sgt. Walter Anderson, union president. "More than 500 city employees already work a 40-hour week."

A conciliation board recently recommended in a supplementary report that the shorter week be instituted if it could be done without increasing the strength of the force. The recommendation was not binding, and the board felt the 40-hour week would not be justified if it caused an increase in the police budget.

TWO EXTRA DAYS OFF
 The union representatives yesterday contended that the reduction in the work week would mean only two more days off each month per man, beyond what they get now.

Chief John A. McEldan flatly stated that a 40-hour week could not be started without reducing the efficiency of the force.

"The question is whether the services would be appreciably curtailed," said Constable N. A. Bouchard.

The commission asked the union delegation to submit a written proposal for institution of a 40-hour week. Mayor Percy E. George, commission chairman, said he would be willing to call a special meeting to hear the proposal.

Says French Atom Group Spy Nest; Seeking Purge
PARIS, June 30 (INS).—Deputy Charles Viatte declared tonight that the French atomic commission is a "nest of spies," and said he will try to get Government purge action.

The Popular Republican deputy disclosed in an interview with International News Service that he is overall head without dropping will see Premier Henri Queuille Saturday to try to get assurances that the Communists will be purged from the commission ranks under Dr. Frederic Joliot-Curie, the commission head, who is an avowed Communist.

PRESSURE ASSERTED
 Viatte said that "powerful pressure" has been put against him to withdraw the resolution he introduced last month in the National Assembly calling attention to the situation in the commission.

Viatte saw President Vincent Auriol last week to plead what he termed the urgent need of eliminating "Communist infiltration" in the A.C.C.

The deputy said he told Auriol the names of several of Joliot-Curie's subordinates suspected of espionage.

ACTION PROMISED
 Viatte refused details of his interview with the President, but it was learned in other quarters that the President promised action soon.

Reach Complete Agreement To Stimulate Mutual Deals

PARIS, July 1 (Friday) (AP).—W. Averell Harriman said early today Marshall-Plan countries had reached "complete agreement on everything" in their efforts to stimulate mutual trade.

Harriman, visiting United States ambassador to the Marshall Plan, made the announcement as he left headquarters of the organization for European economic cooperation in Brussels after a two-day session.

Representatives of countries taking part in the recovery program met there all yesterday and last night.

An inner committee of eight worked all day Thursday on the problem of getting European trade to compete for Marshall Plan dollars without making Britain risk losses of dollars of gold in the scramble. At one point, talks were limited to representatives of Britain, France, Belgium, and the United States.

After agreement had been reached in the smaller groups, the entire 19-member council was called to session. This meeting lasted only a short time and apparently ratified the agreement made by the inner committee.

It was understood that one of the knottiest technical problems the economic leaders had to face was that of moving Belgium's surplus of commodities without further upsetting the European economic balance.

Belgium is one of the most prosperous of the European countries. Her currency is one of the strongest on the continent, and other countries are unable to pay for her things they like to buy from her. Yet Belgium feels that because of her small size she cannot give unlimited credits.

The disturbance followed a police order to remove a Communist propaganda billboard.

Stand of U.K. Railmen May Paralyze Transport
LONDON, June 30 (Reuters).—move it had refused to improve Britain's railroad men and London's waterfront and electricity power to 150,000 lower paid railroad workers are marshaled for the biggest clash with the Labor Government on industrial issues.

There seems practically no hope of averting a "go slow" movement which from midnight Sunday may bring chaos to the railroads.

The Port of London is threatened with a developing work stoppage, arising from the Canadian seamen's strike, which already has involved well over 7,000 men and nearly 70 ships.

Attempts were being made tonight to settle differences over a new wage agreement. The differences have led to a threat by workers at seven of London's biggest power stations to plunge the capital into darkness by a strike next Wednesday.

Jim Figgins, general secretary of the 400,000-strong National Union of Public Employees, today shattered hopes that the railway "go slow" movement might be averted when he announced "no agreement" after a meeting with representatives of the railroad executive which runs the state-owned railroads.

The railway executive, he asserted, refused to join a new conciliatory age to fruit.

Seed Clouds To Stop Hail
MEDFORD, Ore., June 30 (INS).—Two former navy fliers are "seedling" clouds over the Rogue River valley of Southern Oregon in the hope of keeping hail from falling on the fruit-growing area.

"They have made five 'seedling' flights so far, and no hail has fallen in the valley yet. Last year hail fell several times, and one storm early in July did considerable damage to fruit."

Controllers of Japan's Future Make Progress Despite Critics

WASHINGTON, June 30 (AP)—The task of deciding how Japan should be run is in the hands of representatives of 11 countries which helped crush Japanese aggression.

Members of the Far Eastern Commission, which sets formal policies to guide General Douglas MacArthur as Supreme Allied Occupant, met today in a session.

Canada, China, France, India, The Netherlands, New Zealand, The Philippines, Russia, the United Kingdom and the United States.

FORMER EMBASSY

F.E.C. headquarters is a palatial house on Washington's Massachusetts Avenue—the former Japanese Embassy.

The commission can point to a long list of accomplishments since its inception February 26, 1946. But it has had a full share of criticism, much of it from member countries.

Typical was a blast last March by Carlos Romulo, Philippine Ambassador to the United States and chief Philippine representative on F.E.C.

He said the commission's "continued vacillation" was preventing progress in Asia and declared the United States was largely to blame for "failing to make up its mind."

It was time the wartime allies decided "what to do with Japan."

JOINED OPPOSITION

Two months later, China joined with the Philippines in bitter opposition to one of the most decisive "do something" steps taken by the United States in its own conduct of Japanese affairs.

That was the American decision to halt delivery of Japanese reparations.

General Frank B. McCoy, United States representative on the F.E.C., made it plain the United States would oppose any proposal to revive reparations payments.

Japan would need "all the resources at its disposal" to reduce dependence on United States aid.

Romulo criticized the move as playing into the hands of "wily" Japanese industrialists. Dr. W. K. Lee of China said the decision ignored the future security of the Pacific and would do "great injustice" to countries ravaged by Japan.

U.S. ORDER STANDS

But the United States order stands. McCoy can block action on any proposal to resume payments with an F.E.C. veto.

F.E.C. has made progress in other fields, however. Its broad objectives, as set forth in the Potsdam Declaration, are disarmament, democratization and determination of a self-sustaining economy for Japan.

Nehru Plans Ottawa Visit For Autumn

NEW DELHI, June 30 (Reuters)—Prime Minister Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru of India has accepted an invitation to visit Canada in October. It was announced here today.

The invitation was made by Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent, Nehru is visiting the United States prior to going to Ottawa.

St. Laurent's message expressed a "cordial invitation" to Nehru on behalf of the Government and people of Canada, and added:

"The Canadian people would appreciate the opportunity of welcoming you as Prime Minister of a sister nation of the Commonwealth, and as the distinguished leader of the people of India."

GREAT PLEASURE

Nehru said in his reply:

"It will give me great pleasure to visit Canada, and I look forward to fitting this in with my trip to your great and friendly neighbor, the United States of America, next October."

"The Government and people of India entertain the friendliest feelings towards Canada and her people, and it will be both an honor and a pleasure for me to bring to you all in person their greetings."

OTTAWA, June 30 (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru of India will visit Ottawa some time in October, but the exact date of his visit has not yet been set, an External Affairs Department source said today.

Commenting on a New Delhi dispatch, the spokesman confirmed the report that Prime Minister St. Laurent had invited the Indian leader to visit Canada after a trip to the United States.

Details of the visit have not yet been worked out.

Storm Topples Barns

Storm Topples Barns

There was a tear and roof of barn wall falling over my head," said W. J. Kermes, standing two minutes later which caused over $5,000 damage near Alexandria, 30 miles southeast of Cornwall, Ont. Kitchen was torn from house, as shown here. No one was injured in area where trees were uprooted, barns flattened, telegraph poles toppled.

Seamen Given Three Months At Hard Labor

SAINT JOHN, N.B., June 30 (CP)—Ten Canadian Seamen's Union members, Stanley Landan, 26, Winnipeg, and Mike DeLong, 27, Vancouver, were sentenced to three months' hard labor after their conviction today on a charge of unlawful assembly.

The case resulted from a waterfront conflict between police and C.S.U. pickets April 28. An RCMP constable was injured.

Mr. Justice G. F. G. Bridges told Landan and DeLong:

"Actions such as yours will not be tolerated. There was a legitimate way of correcting, or attempting to correct, grievances."

Defence Counsel C. R. Menzies said the accused had been under strain. He drew attention to the long period of waterfront quiet marking the C.S.U. strike in Saint John up to April 26.

Dulles Refutes Story by Hiss

NEW YORK, June 30 (AP)—John Foster Dulles testified today that he wanted Alger Hiss to resign as president of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace after Communist charges against Hiss were aired last summer.

The testimony of Dulles contradicted Hiss' story earlier this week.

VAI EFFORT

Dulles, board chairman of the endowment, took the witness stand after Hiss' defence on perjury charges ended with a final vain effort to question the mental background of his chief accuser, Whitaker Chambers, self-confessed Communist courier.

Last Tuesday Hiss acknowledged talking to Dulles during a Congressional inquiry into Hiss' alleged Communist leanings.

"And did he (Dulles) ask you out of consideration for the endowment to voluntarily resign as president?" Hiss was asked Tuesday. He replied: "He did not."

"Dulles, as a Government rebuttal witness, said today that last August he asked Hiss to resign the $20,000-a-year job to 'relieve the endowment of any embarrassment.'"

The witness said Hiss agreed and suggested offering his resignation in September.

Truman's Bid for South Korean Aid Approved if Reds Barred Government

WASHINGTON, June 30 (AP)—The House Foreign Affairs Committee today approved President Truman's request for 150 million dollars for economic aid to Southern Korea on condition that Communist forces are barred from the Government.

The Army, meanwhile, announced that the last of 30,000 American occupation troops have been withdrawn from Southern Korea. The contingent, reportedly numbering between 700 and 800, was transferred to Hawaii, Japan and the United States.

LAWFUL AUTHORITY

The Southern Korean Government, headed by Dr. Syngman Rhee, was declared by the United Nations last December 12 to be the only "lawful" authority in Korea.

It is opposed, however, by the Communist-dominated Government as a result of the partition agreement reached by the U.S. and Russia at Yalta.

The House Committee, adopting an amendment by Rep. Lodge (Rep. Conn.), provided that American aid would end if a coalition Government was formed which included a Communist or a member of the controlling party in Northern Korea.

ADVANCE DIRECTED

The Reconstruction Finance Corporation was directed to advance 50 million dollars to the Economic Co-operation Administration for Korean aid until Congress appropriates the authorized fund.

Legislation was approved.

Judith Coplon Found Guilty On Two Counts

WASHINGTON, June 30 (AP)—Judith Coplon, 28-year-old former Justice Department political analyst, was convicted today of stealing U.S. Defense secrets for Russia.

The diminutive, dark-haired ex-Government girl received the verdict of eight men and four women without emotion.

As each juror intoned the word "Guilty," she cupped her chin and stared impassively at the jury box.

SERVED TEN WEEKS

When Federal Judge Albert L. Rains dismissed the jury, which had served for ten weeks on the case, newsmen crowded around the newsmen's table and asked her reaction.

"I am innocent," she said.

Her attorney, Archibald Palmer, promptly announced that he will appeal the conviction. In the Supreme Court, if necessary.

But the 35-year-old, white-haired Judge Rains informed Government and defense lawyers that he will pronounce sentence on Miss Coplon at 10 a.m. Friday.

Lewis Orders Work Week Of Three Days

WHITE SULPHUR SPRING, W. Va., June 30 (AP)—John L. Lewis, U.M.W. president, today ordered a three-day work week in effect in the nation's soft coal mines.

The United Mine Workers' president abandoned the union's traditional "No contract, no work" policy and ended the threat of a summer strike by directing his 400,000 bituminous miners to go on short work "rations."

The existing soft coal wage contract expires at midnight tonight but Lewis instructed all local unions, except those west of the Mississippi, to put the share-the-work plan into operation until a new pact is signed.

George Love, chief spokesman for Northern and Western mine owners, trying to win a new agreement in negotiations with the U.M.W., at White Sulphur Springs, branded Lewis' action "illegal." He said the operators would try to run their mines as long as necessary each week to fill orders.

Lewis scornfully replied: "Do you expect to do it with strikers?"

The union leader told his miners to report for work next Tuesday when their ten-day vacation ends and to stay on the job Thursday, Wednesday and Thursday next week.

Wire Rates To Be Boosted As of Monday

MONTREAL, June 30 (CP)—The Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railways companies announced today that effective July 4 telegraph rates to and from points in Canada with the exception of the Province of Newfoundland will be increased approximately 15 per cent.

The announcement said the increase will restore domestic telegraph rates to the general level prevailing prior to last March 22.

A 15 per cent tax was eliminated when the Federal budget was announced at that time.

The joint announcement added that rates were last increased in 1923 and the new increase is designed to "compensate in part for substantial increases in the cost of labor and materials over the last several years."

Press tolls will also be increased, a spokesman said. These rates vary but the general increase is expected to work out at about 15 per cent.

Official Count Elects Goode

VANCOUVER, June 30 (CP)—Tom Goode, Burnaby-Richmond constituency, is again on the Liberal ticket in a general election.

First official preliminary returns from returning officer M. M. Reigh gave Goode a 32-vote lead over his nearest contender, C.C.F. candidate Mrs. Dorothy Steves.

Earlier unofficial counting placed Mrs. Steves in front by a 16 vote margin. Goode had been elected before that on the basis of incomplete election night returns.

Further returns from army balloting may yet affect the see-sawing district. These are expected sometime between July 3 and July 12.

Official count now reads: Ferguson (P.C.) 6,116; Good (L.) 12,841; McEwen (Lab-P.) 1,548; Steves (C.C.P.) 12,359.

recommended speedy withdrawal of Soviet and American occupation forces.

Russia completed its program last December 25 but left a well-trained native army.

The U.S. is leaving an American advisory group of about 500 persons to advise and assist the Southern Korean military forces.

Opposition Grows in Victoria To Trade Licences Fee Hike

Opposition to increases in trades licence fees is beginning to snowball.

Already this week representatives of the Victoria Bar Association and theatre operators have requested permission to appear before council to protest the increases. Rooming-house operators have also complained.

Yesterday Dr. J. D. MacPherson, secretary-treasurer of the Victoria and District Dental Society asked council to receive a delegation from his organization to discuss the revised trades licence schedule.

Dr. MacPherson stated the jump in licence fees for dentists was not equitable.

He said his group wished to meet the council with a view to reaching a modification of the new rate scale.

$50,000 ADDITIONAL

City Council last week authorized the new trades licence schedule designed to bring an additional revenue of $50,000 into the city treasury in the last half of this year.

The new schedule raises the fees for dentists, doctors, lawyers and other professional categories from $25 to $75 for a six-month period. Rates for rooming houses, apartment blocks and hotels were hiked from 50 cents to $1.50 per room over each six-month period. Fees charged theatre operators were increased from $150 to $750 for theatres with a capacity of 750 seats. Fees for smaller theatres were increased proportionately.

STILL NEED PICKERS
A few late strawberry pickers are still needed to harvest the tag-end of the jam berry crop. E. C. Hughes, Dominion-Provincial Farm Labor Service manager in Victoria, said yesterday.

Because of dry weather, this year's raspberry crop, now coming in, will probably be very light, he said. There have been few orders for raspberry pickers.

Loganberry season is expected to begin in about ten days.

PREPARE TO BUILD
Indication that the British Columbia Power Commission intends to make an early start on its proposed building between McClure Street, Burdett Avenue and Blanshard Street was contained in a letter written by Henry Whitaker, Government architect, and received at City Hall yesterday.

Mr. Whitaker asked the city to arrange for the blasting of a large outcropping of rock on Burdett Avenue near the intersection with Blanshard Street.

It was stated the Power Commission would pay for the blasting work provided it is permitted to make use of the blasted rock.

A quick decision in the matter was requested "as the commission wishes to proceed with its plans in the very near future."

WOULD MOVE HUT
The Old Guides yesterday requested permission from the city to move a former army hut from Dallas Road to the southeast corner of Chester and Fairfield Road where a Boy Scout clubhouse now stands.

The Guides recently purchased the army hut from the city with the intention of using the building as a central headquarters for city activities.

SEEK NEW "DERBY" COURSE
Because Ryan Street Hill, the scene of Victoria's Labor Day soap box Derby races, is considered dangerous both for contestants and spectators, the Knights of Pythias are looking around for a better location.

In a letter to city council yesterday the organization asked that the possibility of finding another location be investigated.

The Knights of Pythias annually sponsor the soap box Derby event. This year's Derby will be the fifth race sponsored by the group.

The Derby last year attracted 80 entries and more than 4,000 spectators.

Officials stated it was hoped the winners of the 1949 competition would be able to compete for the national championships in Canada and then travel to Akron, Ohio, for the United States Finals.

GET CITIZENSHIP
Seven new Canadians will be on hand to celebrate Dominion Day today following citizenship ceremonies yesterday in County Court before Judge H. H. Shandley.

The seven presented Canadian citizenship certificates were: Rev. John Joseph Cowan, A. J. B. Randi, Mrs. Hedwig Lange, A. G. Linders, Quan Mook Wing, Lowe Gum-Boo and Chow Ka Kau.

Other applicants for citizenship certificates who were given preliminary hearings on their applications were:

John Long, Linn Augustus Gale, Yvette G. Semlyn, Charles W. M. Bandberg, William Milewich, Elmer Moller Tangs, Leong Chee Lack, Yee Hip Sui Hong, Mui Fong Leung, Mae Chon Leung, Chow Chee Yek, Cheung Chung Leung, Chow Quon, Chin Lin Poo.

DRIVER PLEADS GUILTY

John G. Allison, 1679 McRae Avenue, appeared before Magistrate H. C. Hall yesterday in Saanich police court to plead guilty to a charge of driving while intoxicated.

Magistrate Hall sentenced him to seven days in jail and remanded him until next Thursday to await a probation report before deciding on how long to suspend his driver's licence.

Robert C. Marsh, 1255 Constance Avenue, pleaded guilty to a charge of driving dangerously on Shelbourne Street early June 26 and was sentenced to a fine of $40 and prohibited from driving for a month.

John Dalby, 1679 Klaber Avenue, was fined $10 for driving a racing car on Shelbourne Street without licence plates.

SERVICE APPRECIATED

L. W. Taverner, 1619 Hollywood Crescent, appreciates good service which he gets.

Stricken with a heart attack downtown last month, Mr. Taverner was rushed to Royal Jubilee Hospital in a city police ambulance.

Yesterday, the police commission received from Mr. Taverner a letter of appreciation and a $5 donation to the Police Mutual Benefit Association.

He paid special tribute to the speed in which the two constables responded to the emergency call.

They were Constables Keith Hollett and Albert Wilson.

SINNOTT RESIGNS

Patrick J. Sinnott, Victoria lawyer, yesterday tendered his resignation from the position of deputy police magistrate.

The police commission accepted the resignation, but did not discuss a new appointment.

MOTHER, SON INJURED

A mother and her nine-month-old son were slightly injured yesterday afternoon when the car in which they were passengers was involved in an accident on the Johnson Street bridge.

Treated and later discharged from Royal Jubilee Hospital were Mrs. Leonard C. Thomas, 543 Manchester Road and her son, Oliver. Mrs. Thomas suffered face and nose cuts.

Mr. Thomas, driver of the car, told police he was proceeding east on the bridge when in collision with the rear of a car driven by Howard W. Waring, 2944 Scott Street.

Constable Norman Gallbraith took the injured to hospital.

Burner Causes Small "Fire"

No damage was caused last night when a sawdust burner "backfired" at McLean's Bakery, 1394 Douglas Street, but city strollers were provided with some free entertainment.

More than 150 persons quickly gathered around the large glass window, and, peering over each other's shoulders, tried to guess the source of the trouble.

"That's gas smoke! If I ever saw it. Wonder the place didn't burn down," opined a spectator. "You're wrong, friend, that fire started in the wiring," argued his companion.

Varsity Post To City Man

James W. Wilson, 2224 McNicoll Avenue, has been appointed research assistant in the department of City and Regional Planning at the University of North Carolina.

Mr. Wilson at present is an engineer with the British Columbia Power Commission and will assume his duties at Chapel Hill, N.C. in September.

Professor John A. Parker, head of the department, yesterday stated Mr. Wilson holds bachelor's and master's degrees in civil engineering from Glasgow University and from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

During the war he served as assistant civil engineer with the Department of the Admiralty.

Oak Bay Man May Be Arraigned On Murder Charge Next Week

Francis Edward Smith, 75, 2325 Dunlavy Street, is expected to appear at a special sitting of Oak Bay Police court early next week to face a charge of murdering his wife, Chief H. C. F. Reston said yesterday.

Smith, who is under a 24-hour guard by specially sworn-in constables at Royal Jubilee Hospital, has improved considerably, according to the chief, who thinks doctors will allow the accused out of the hospital soon.

Stars in Today's Air Show

"Swede" Ralston shown above, will star in Air Circus at Patricia Bay airport today. He is shown at nose of his stunt plane known to most Canadians as Harvard. This type of plane was used extensively to train pilots in World War. Ralston is one of world's outstanding precision flyers and is rated best aerobatic pilot in Pacific Northwest.

Star of Big Air Circus "Sky Writes" Over City

"Air Show" written in letters nearly a mile long announced the arrival of "Swede" Ralston in Victoria last night.

With necks craned skyward hundreds of Victorians on downtown streets watched with interest as Ralston carefully formed each letter with smoke pouring from the hot exhaust pipe of his plane.

He started the half-hour show at 10,000 feet over the city and later repeated the performance at 5,000 feet and again at 1,000 feet.

MAKES HUGE ARROW
In conclusion he wrote a huge arrow in the sky pointing towards Patricia Bay airport where the Giant Air Circus is being held today.

In view of the large crowd that attended last year's show, where Ralston was the feature attraction, special arrangements have been made to insure that everyone will be able to see the performance. Two shows have been arranged, the first to commence at 1 p.m. and the second at 7 p.m. The shows will last approximately two hours each.

Officials of the Victoria Flying Club and the Victoria Klansmen Club, co-sponsors of the circus, have been busy at the airport for the past three days preparing for the event. Two separate parking lots

Dominion Celebrating Birthday

With Canadians throughout this and the other nine provinces, Victorians will lock up their houses today to celebrate the Dominion's 82nd birthday.

Residents of the city who waited until they got home again to read the paper were happy to see the first story.

Depending in large measure upon the weather, Victorians have a wealth of holiday entertainment from which to make a choice. The weather, however, remains the focal point. The best prediction available (from Vancouver) at a late hour last night spoke of "overcast skies and scattered showers" this morning, but cheered up by adding "clearing by mid-afternoon." The temperature, incidentally, should be about the same as yesterday.

VARIED ENTERTAINMENT
The entertainment offered is varied. At Patricia Bay the giant air show goes on afternoon and evening, with stunting, free plane rides and dancing in the evening.

At Royal Athletic Park Victoria's improving team appears in a morning-evening double-header.

At Victoria West Park there is the circus. All around the city are beaches, golf courses and places to fish. There is the B.C. Rifle Association shoot at Healy's Range, and the B.C. trap championships open at the Gun Club, Albert Head. There is also the garden.

And from Atlantic to Pacific, for the first time ten provinces pause to recall the birth of Canada on July 1, 1867.

BUS LINE SERVICE
For those without cars, Vancouver Island Coach Lines buses will leave the bus depot hourly beginning at 10:15 a.m. The extra buses that have been earmarked to move the expected crowds will travel by the West Saanich road and will deposit their passengers right on the airport itself.

For those who drive, Saanich and Provincial Police together with two motorcycle officers from the Victoria force, will co-operate to keep traffic moving steadily and safely along the highway.

Meanwhile the feature event in the seven-point program will be a precision aerobatic display in a Harvard aircraft by "Swede" Ralston.

TO STAGE DOGFIGHT
Included in the show will be a typical "Great War aerial dogfight." Ralston, and his wingman, Dick Martin, will try and out-manoeuvre each other in two "AT-6's"—the American equivalent of a Harvard. They will criss-cross the sky with a smoke pattern which will enable the crowd to follow the manoeuvres.

In addition, free airplane rides will be given to holders of lucky programs—either in the huge four-engine North Star or in Victoria Flying Club planes.

More "National Pride" Needed Declares Jurist

Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane last night called on Canadians to uphold indifference in civic affairs, in a Dominion Day speech that heartily endorsed the Kiwanis slogan: "It's Great to Be a Canadian."

Speaking at a regular dinner meeting of the Oak Bay Kiwanis Club at the Oak Bay Beach Hotel, the Supreme Court judge said that although Canadians had shown much of their inferiority complex about their nationality, they were still too indifferent and careless with what they have.

Although Canada was only "a long strip of a country, developed north and south for only 100 or 200 miles," he said, since the World War it has been fully realized "the important role such a country could play in world affairs."

CITES INFLUENCE
He pointed to Canada as a harmonizing influence between Britain and the United States, two countries each of which Canada understands better than they do each others.

"In another way we stand in a strategic position where the United States and Russia are concerned," he added, pointing that Canada may have an important place in the affairs of the world because of that position.

He said Canadians had a great choice to make between Western countries and those led by Russia, and that it was up to Canadian citizens of British and French origin to help the others understand the necessity for throwing off indifference and taking definite action.

He said that keeping on guard to prevent squandering of Canada's vast northern resources, so vital to one fireman.

Canada's defence, was "something that is going to take all the manhood we have."

"In the last five or ten years we have seen more development in national spirit than in any comparable time prior to that," the judge said. He called on Canadians to develop their pride in their country and to realize to the full the vast resources of the land.

Starts Fire, Boy of Six Thinks Fast

Six-year-old Billy Woods, son of Mr. and Mrs. Perry C. Woods, 1072 Lodge Avenue, Saanich, did wrong yesterday morning but he redeemed himself by showing outstanding presence of mind.

Firemen said the youngster started a fire in his bedclothes while playing with matches when his mother was momentarily away from the house.

SHUTS OFF DRAFTS
Quickly realizing the impending danger, Billy ran out of the room, closing the door behind him to shut off all drafts.

He made a beeline for the telephone, thumbed through the directory until he located the Saanich Fire Department's number, and told what had happened. In a short time, firemen were there and extinguished the small blaze.

"If that boy keeps his head in all emergencies like he did today, he'll go far in this world," declared vast northern resources, so vital to one fireman.

"Lyle's for Better Styles" has been the very apt slogan of Mrs. Viola Armstrong who, for the past eleven years, as owner of Lyle's Ladies' Wear, 1441 Douglas Street and the branch store (currently known as LaBarra's) has brought to smart women of Victoria the ultimate in style and quality in ladies' ready-to-wear. Mrs. Armstrong is retiring to private life. LaBarra's, 732 Fort Street, has recently been purchased by Mrs. Gladys Baker of Edmonton.

FRIDAY, JULY 1, 1949

The Vision That Was Confederation

TIME creeps on insidiously. Only a limited number of Canadians can recall the birth of the nation whose 82nd milestone will be celebrated today throughout the length and breadth of this vast land. It is an occasion for looking back, to see how well Canadians have matched the vision of the founding Fathers of Confederation. These built better perhaps than they knew, and the enduring structure of national life that is now Canada is testimony to the truth of their inspiration.

This particular Dominion Day has a special significance. The inclusion of Newfoundland as the tenth province, all that was originally envisaged and all that can be, puts the seal of completeness on the Confederation. British Columbia entered in 1871. The dream of Sir John A. Macdonald and his colleagues of those early days has come true in fact and in spirit. Dominion from sea to sea has been widened and strengthened for what may lie ahead for Canada in the future.

Canada was fashioned as a land where its people would make their own opportunities, seizing the resources at hand and backing them with the zeal and purpose of willing hearts and minds. A free people in a land of boundless blessing. That was the vision of the founding Fathers. It should be the mainspring of all Canadian thought today, in a world where these verities are being challenged and impugned. Only by holding fast to the ideals which have enabled this nation to celebrate its 82nd birthday in amity and without fear, will the full fruits of Confederation expand as Canada grows to greater stature.

Free Press and Free Speech Are Synonymous

FREEDOM of the press means far more than freedom of the newspapers. In its broadest interpretation the phrase connotes the right of the individual to express his views and opinions in print without fear of interference or suppression by anyone. Freedom of the press, therefore, is inseparable from the right of free speech.

For all those who would guard those rights in a world where individual freedom is being trespassed upon more and more there is encouragement in the rejection by the Royal Commission on the Press of Great Britain of all proposals for governmental control. The findings of the commission have established the essential soundness of the British press. In its view free enterprise is a prerequisite of a free press, and the newspapers should not be subjected to external influences upon policy.

"The policy of the press," the commission concluded, "is dictated neither by the advertisers, nor by the Government, nor by any outside financial interests. It is the policy of those who own and conduct the press."

The freedom now enjoyed carries with it certain heavy responsibilities, however, not the least of which is the obligation to respect the freedom of others and to refrain from intrusion into private affairs. The fact that a small section of the British press recently stepped over the bounds of decency to report in unnecessary detail the holiday of a member of the Royal Family, no doubt influenced in part the commission's recommendation that there should be a general council of the press to preserve a code of conduct. The functions of the council suggested by the commission would be not only to safeguard freedom but also to censure any who might offend against professional standards.

Sterling Crisis Has World Repercussions

SINCE the pound sterling and the American dollar between them influence a vast share of the world's trade, the emergence of yet another monetary crisis in London may have wide repercussions before collective measures can be taken to readjust the insecurity of the present rate of exchange concerning sterling and dollar balances. Great Britain's call to Commonwealth lands would not have been made without good reason, or if the emergency were less acute than Sir Stafford Cripps has depicted it.

It has been obvious for some time that inflation the world over, and progressively on this continent, was eating into the credits established for the United Kingdom in dollar bloc countries. Provision, thus, that was intended to last for five years has worn thin in half of that time. With Britain off the gold standard, and a declared state of pressure in trading, the "open" market has been selling the pound short for some time. Reduction of gold reserves, however gradual, tend to accelerate the pace.

It was a foregone conclusion that Canada would sit in at the Commonwealth discussions of the present London crisis, but her position there will not be an easy one. Canada is much more in the dollar bloc than out of it, and it is upon her that special obligations now may fall. Only financial experts may know the whole reason behind the present state of affairs, but no one who has thought about the matter will regard the British warning lightly. Too big a dollar and too small a pound would bring comfort in the long run to no one; while it would delay the effective revival of world trade.

NOT PERSONAL

Sir,—With reference to your editorial in a recent issue re Saanich municipal affairs:

Your statement that a personal feud has developed between myself, as president of the Ward Six Saanich Ratepayers' Association, and the Reeve of Saanich, is mistaken.

The disputes which have arisen between myself and the Reeve in the Saanich Council Chamber are solely due to our disagreement with the Reeve's handling of the municipal business of Saanich in which we, as ratepayers, are vitally interested.

There is too great a tendency to construe arguments over political matters, whether Dominion, Provincial or municipal, as personal feuds. Some may be; but the Saanich municipal situation is not one of them, so far as I am concerned.

—SYDNEY PICKLES,

President, Ward Six Saanich Ratepayers' Association, R.R. 1, Saanichton, B.C.

CHIMNEY BOYS

Sir,—With reference to Tom Taylor's article on boy chimney-sweeps in England a century ago, the following may interest your readers:

In turning over a series of the "Annual Register," 1799-1840 (in the possession of my friend, Mr. E. L. Hill of Gorge Road, formerly Edmonton city librarian—and his first!) Mr. Hill and I encountered a notice of a voluntary agreement entered into by a number of master chimney-sweeps in his native city of Sheffield, England, in the year 1803. They bound themselves to employ no boys less than eight years of age. The hours were to be "restricted" to not earlier or later than 4 a.m. to 5 p.m. in summer, and 5 a.m. to 4 p.m. in winter. They were to have three good meals every day, good clothes furnished them for use off duty, and were to attend "a proper place of worship on Sundays." The masters, furthermore, bound themselves not to hire their boys out to other sweeps. One of the witnesses to this agreement was no less a man than the well-known hymn-writer James Montgomery, whose hymns are in every hymn-book. He was a prominent humanitarian and reformer of his day. During his long residence in Sheffield of over half a century, he was more than once imprisoned for his liberal opinions, fearlessly expressed as editor of the newspaper "Iris." The circumstance of such a man witnessing this agreement is, in itself, a testimonial to its sincerity.

Montgomery was too acute and conscientious a man to lend his name to any mere hypocritical advertising. But when the foregoing stipulations represent the better element among the Sheffield chimney-sweeps, and could receive his endorsement as such, it conjures up an appalling vision of what must have been the treatment of those unfortunate whose masters refused to join such a body!

STONEHENGE

Sir,—In your issue of June 22 were a few short paragraphs relating to Stonehenge. They said: "The watchers came to see whether the first rays of the sun could penetrate..." by the altar stone at the centre. In the days of ancient Britain this was the signal for the knife to descend on a human sacrifice to the god of the Sun. I do not know who was responsible for the above, but apparently he or she is not very well informed on the subject.

To begin with, the Druids (in Britain the fountain head of Druidism), worshipped a Trinity, of whom one member was called "Jesu." The Saviour or Deliverer, though there were earlier Britons who worshipped the Sun.

With regard to human sacrifices, may I quote from Frederic Habermay's "Tracing Our Ancestors." He says: "Sir Flinders Petrie, during his investigations of Stonehenge, raised the ancient altar stone, and found burnt embers and bones of cattle beneath, proving that it was used as an altar of burnt offering, like the one in Jehovah's Temple at Jerusalem, and not a place of slaughter of human beings. I believe Julius Caesar described the sacrifice of human beings in wicker cages in Gaul, where a debased form of Druidism was practised."

From "Tamburlaine"

Nature, that fram'd us of four elements,
Warring within our breasts for regiment,
Doth teach us all to have aspiring minds:
Our souls, whose faculties can comprehend
The wondrous architecture of the world,
And measure every wandering planet's course,
Still climbing after knowledge infinite,
And always moving as the restless spheres,
Will us to wear ourselves and never rest,
Until we reach the ripest fruit of all,
That perfect bliss, and sole felicity,
The sweet fruition of an earthly crown.

Road Building

By FRANK M. KELLEY

THE proof being in the building, it must be generally appreciated that road construction in the Province of British Columbia is a costly business, even with the advantage of having a lot of road-making material available in most districts through which highways are more or less essential to development.

There is nothing enviable, this observer has long realized, in administering the Department of Public Works in a Province such as ours, where roads and bridges are so very necessary in the initial peopling of the land. It is not too wild a guess, either, to assume that the Minister of Public Works and his colleagues would very much like to have the ready cash to spend on road building wherever highway-hungry communities exist between Vancouver Island and the Peace River Block.

To make plans, on even a modest scale, which would give the far-flung areas of British Columbia outlets of highway calibre, is seemingly a logical course to pursue, yet there will never be enough yearly revenue to carry out such planning. It is contended by some, as long as certain urban areas, for obvious reasons, get so much public money for costly and seemingly continual changes.

A MAIN GRIEVANCE

This practice in connection with British Columbia roads is one of the main grievances the remote ruralist has "sigh" Provincial Government. Their contention is that public funds should be more impartially distributed for the general good instead of being spent year after year in urban areas already well served with communicating links.

Restive over lack of action in implementing promises made time and time again, representatives of some island communities have been dramatizing their roadless plight and demonstrating there is nothing that can be seen anyway, to stop roads from being constructed. First they gain some publicity for their area culminated when three who tramped the trail recently from Port Renfrew to meet members of the Jordan River and Sooke Chambers of Commerce found, as others had before, that while the going was a bit tough in spots, there was nothing between Port Renfrew and Boulder Beach that would block engineers and modern road-making equipment.

Following the trek of the Renfrew boosters, a trio set out from Tofino, farther west along the Coast, to demonstrate the feasibility of building the piece of road which was publicized considerably when the Trans-Canada Highway was so much talked about some years ago, and in which the little community on Clayoquot Sound was named as the Pacific terminus of the All-Canadian road. They got through, too, without finding any of the apparent obstacles in the way of a road to tell of their experiences at the annual gathering of the Associated Boards of Trade at Nanaimo last week.

EFFORTS RECOGNIZED

At that meeting, too, came a measure of recognition for a Victorian who has been identified with the promotion of highways on Vancouver Island for some years past, H. Cuthbert Holmes, who many feel, if he could have his way or exercise some Aladdin-lamp magic, would have all the old promises of highways here and there redeemed and the Island opened up for what the Creator evidently intended it — an area of happy and contented communities, as well as a playground for all and sundry seeking the solace of what novelist Rex Beach was wont to call "the Silent Places."

Wrong Term

RECENTLY there was a great spurge in the press of the United States about that stupendous American achievement, the airlift. The only thing wrong with this picture was its terminology. The airlift, as it happened, was an Anglo-American achievement.

Approximately one-third of the joint effort was British, paralleling the comparative resources of the two nations. The cost to British taxpayers was $26,000,000, and 23 British airmen lives were lost in the operation, as compared to 21 Americans—Christian Science Monitor.

Reversal of Soviet Policy in Europe

By W. N. EWER

LONDON.—The reversal of Soviet policy in Germany was revealed in a now familiar way. There was no explanation either to the Western ministers, to the Soviet people or to the satellite Communist parties called upon suddenly to follow a new line. There was, indeed, no admission any change has taken place. There cannot be, for to admit scrapping of the old policy would be to admit Stalin has blundered or, at least, miscalculated. And no Communist dare whisper such a thought. The first canon of Stalinism is that Stalin not only is but always has been right. He is incapable of error.

So to understand the reasons and, therefore, the implications of this astonishing change one must look at the facts. Why has the German policy so ceremonially announced at Warsaw only eleven months ago been suddenly discarded? Why has the Soviet Government suddenly decided there must not, at any rate for the present, be a "democratic all-German government"—but only a non-elected "German state council" dealing with "economic and administrative questions" under the "supreme power" of a revived Four-Power Control Council?

The first reason is clearly political. A year ago Stalin, misled both by the German Communists and by his own officials in Germany, believed a democratic united Germany would be easily converted into a Communist-dominated Germany. Unity, democratic institutions and the withdrawal of occupying forces would rapidly bring into existence a German state which would politically and economically ally itself with the Soviet Union and disassociate itself from Western Europe. But first the developments in the West, then the shock of the recent Soviet zone elections, have shown Stalin and his colleagues this was an idle dream. A united Germany with any freedom of choice would choose association with Western Europe, not association with the Soviet Union and its satellites. Therefore, the Warsaw program must be abandoned. There must be no "democratic all-German Government" but a continuance of partition so that the Soviet Union can at any rate still maintain control of the Eastern zone.

But why at the same time propose re-establishment of the Allied Control Council and of an all-German economic and administrative body subject to it? Again the answer is surely clear. Politically, the Soviet Government still wants to keep Germany divided, to retain its own complete control of the Eastern zone. But economically it is in very grave difficulties.

When two years ago the Soviet Government forbade its satellite states to take part in the Organization for European Economic Co-operation, it had grandiose plans of an Eastern Europe whose economy would be closely linked with that of the Soviet Union, separated as far as possible from that of the West European and overseas countries. For two years Soviet statesmanship has been trying to put those grandiose plans into effect. The result has been to create an intense economic crisis, especially in Czechoslovakia and Eastern Germany. The Soviet Union, for all its boasting of economic strength, is in no condition to help its satellites. Indeed, their troubles are in part due to the fact it has been ruthlessly and short-sightedly exploiting them by various devices.

Moscow has been forced to realize its satellite countries must either rebuild their economic connections with the West or run the risk of collapse. They are already at the point at which they need not only resumption of trade but Western help in the shape of credits.

That is true also of Eastern Germany. Four years of Soviet administration and exploitation have brought the zone to a condition in which it, too, needs not only trade with the West, but help from the West. The relaxation of the two mark currencies is only one symptom of the situation. And it is notable that in Berlin the Soviet negotiations have proposed a currency agreement which would mean in effect the giving of very large West mark credits to the Soviet zone.

The Vyshinsky proposal follows logically. There must be a German body representing the "economic organs" of the East and the West. The sentiment of national solidarity in such a body might mean that, through it, the West would provide economic assistance for the East. And must be under quadripartite control so that the Soviet military governor can impose his veto if the "German Council" shows signs of any independence or of any desire to "interfere" in the economy of the Eastern zone.

In short, the change of the Soviet "line" is the direct result of the failure of both its political and economic policies in Eastern Germany and in Eastern Europe as a whole. That is its real significance.

Defence of Hongkong

By the Military Correspondent of The Times, London

THE student of military affairs is often expected to answer the question: "Is Hongkong defensible?" He might almost as well be asked: "How long does it take a pipe from the roof to fill the rain-butt?" The circumstances must be taken into account.

The factors in the defence of Hongkong can be analyzed, but it is more difficult to assess the strength of a possible attack. The island by itself could not be defended except for a brief period. It is very small, with a huge population, which cannot live without food from outside. It is so close to the mainland that the lightest artillery and even machine-guns could bring fire to bear upon it.

Therefore the island must be defended from the mainland. The mainland territories are indispensable, but their defence may be exposed to the full weight of a large army. At the same time a close land blockade would suffice to strangle the trade of Hongkong, which is its raison d'être.

If the question were whether the force which it was recently announced would constitute the defence of Hongkong was adequate to hold it against a major attack from the mainland, the answer could only be that it was not. The strength to which the land forces were to be brought was given as two brigade groups (each of three battalions), with some tanks and field, anti-aircraft, and anti-tank artillery.

It was further stated that air defence would be carried out by "fighter aircraft," and that an extra cruiser would proceed to the station, to be followed if necessary by a carrier. The strength announced could, however, be expected to check an attack and gain time for reinforcements, if they had been prepared on the approach of an emergency.

The Kuomintang considered British rule an infringement of Chinese sovereignty, but it cannot be said that there has been a serious "Hongkong question" since the war. This applies even to the Communists, but then they are still a long way from Canton. It remains to be seen whether, if they approach Hongkong, they will recognize, openly or tacitly, its value as the one stable base of Chinese foreign trade.

If they do not, and decide to attack in force, the defence will have to be strengthened. It could be made such as would inflict terrible losses upon any forces likely to be brought against it. The value of Hongkong and the assessment of what it is worth to spend in its defence is a political and economic consideration.

PRACTICE ONLY

The Royal Mint in Britain is making 100,000 sovereigns which will never be used as money. They will remain as part of the nation's gold reserve and will not be issued to the public. These gold coins are being struck for a very special purpose, to preserve the inherited knowledge and craftsmanship in making gold coins. The craft of gold coining requires a different technique from that used for other metals.

A NEIGHBOR watched Bill, the Broad Street barber, scrape a few weeds from his garden and rest at short intervals on a hoe handle. "Say, Bill, Hard work never killed anybody," he shouted across the fence. "Perhaps not, but it gives plenty of persons bad scares," Bill retorted.

Tobaccoist Martin went to a butcher store near his home and asked for a T-bone steak. When the butcher told him the price was $1.50, Martin chuckled: "I see you are still playing the game for high steaks." While the Keating Squire and a friend were settling affairs of the world over a pot of tea, the subject of an acquaintance who had inherited a small fortune came up. "He is going to find that money does not always bring happiness," the first man commented. "Perhaps not, but it will pay his fare while he rides around looking for it," the squire replied.

From the Financial Post, Toronto: "Of late, in cities and on highways, both here and in the United States, we have witnessed more utterly mad driving than we have encountered in all our motoring life. Most of the maniacs who menace the lives of others are youths in their late teens. They are either brahms show-offs, weaving in and out at reckless speeds, or mooning fools driving at a snail's pace with one hand on the wheel and the other around the neck of a girl who has no brains either."

Suggests Prices Be Equalized By Adjustment of Rail Rates

VANCOUVER, June 30 (CP).—Complete equalization of the price of manufactured goods across the country was recommended before the Royal Commission on transportation today by the City of Vancouver.

A brief delivered by Mayor Charles E. Thompson suggested this could be achieved through adjustments in transportation charges so that manufacturers could lay down their products in every area of the Dominion at identical costs.

The mayor's submission came at the final sitting of a month-long tour which has carried the three-man commission into all Western provinces in its investigation into national transportation problems.

From here, the commission goes to the Maritimes, with sessions due to open in Halifax June 12. From the Maritimes, the investigators under Hon. W. P. A. Tuzo, go to Quebec, Ontario and then the new province of Newfoundland.

Mayor Thompson in his submission today called for "complete equalization" of costs of freight on manufactured products.

MADE OBLIGATORY

"We believe," he said, "that national prices on manufactured goods, which now are in practice on a limited number of products, should be made obligatory if Canadians are to receive equal opportunity and treatment."

Outright Federal control of all interprovincial trucking was advocated by another witness today—E. B. Alton, spokesman for the British Columbia Feed Manufacturers' Association.

He advised that truck carriers crossing provincial boundaries be placed under the Board of Transport Commissioners, "the body that

Farmers Offer Own Rewards For Johnson

MISSION, B.C., June 30 (CP).—Neighbors of the Silver Hill killer, Ivar Johnson, have offered a reward for his capture—dead or alive.

Living in daily fear of their lives, they have decided to offer all they have—which isn't much—financially in an effort to avenge the lives of two of their kin, and end the reign of fear.

Between them, the simple folk in the Swedish community have offered ten chickens, a calf, $2, an apple crop, and the yield of two pear trees.

WILL KNIT SOCKS

Another neighbor, Mrs. Anna Tholander, will knit a pair of socks for the man who finds Johnson.

This reward is in addition to the $200 offered by the municipality.

Seven days now have passed since Johnson, a 70-year-old bachelor-farmer, shot two of his own neighbors, Mrs. Maria Lindberg and Mrs. Charlotte Barrett.

U.S. Designs New Jet Plane

BURBANK, Cal., June 30 (INS).—A new jet fighter aircraft designed for night and inclement weather combat was announced today by the air force and the Lockheed Aircraft Corporation.

Described as an "advanced version" of the F-80 Shooting Star jet fighter, the new plane has been designated as the F-94 by the air force.

The air force said that the new plane will have a mission of high altitude interception of enemy attack, especially under conditions of weather and visibility that would ground standard jet fighters.

The new plane is a two-seater, a cockpit for the pilot and a rear cockpit for the radar operator.

Woman Fined $100 In Witchcraft Case

TRINIDAD, Colo., June 30 (INS).—Trinidad officials said today that severe penalties are in store for persons convicted of practicing witchcraft.

The warning followed the conviction and assessment of a $100 fine against Mrs. Carmen Trullio, 67, of Pueblo, who was found guilty of "practicing witchcraft" among Spanish-American families in the Trinidad community.

Judge Frank Harenberg, sitting in Justice Court, told Mrs. Trullio that a just term will be the penalty if she practices witchcraft again.

Wheat Pact Now in Effect As Two Sign

WASHINGTON, June 30 (CP).—India and the Lebanon today deposited at the State Department their formal approval of the international wheat agreement, thus putting into effect the four-year price-fixing pact.

MORE THAN MINIMUM

They are the 14th and 15th importing countries to ratify the agreement. India's agreement to buy 38,200,000 bushels annually was enough to boost the importer commitment to 322,793,491—just more than 320,000,000-bushel minimum required for implementation.

The 320,000,000 figure represents 70 per cent of the grand total agreed when the pact was signed here in March—456,000,000 bushels.

Prices written into the pact are a maximum of $1.80 a bushel in each of the four years and a minimum dropping ten cents a year from $1.50 to $1.20.

Yesterday ratifications were received from Austria, The Netherlands, Peru and South Africa.

"Confesses" Taking Camera

EDMONTON, June 30 (CP).—An Edmonton newspaperman's camera reported stolen from the barristers' room at city police court, turned up today in the Crown prosecutor's office.

The camera hadn't been stolen. A prominent city barrister "confessed" that he had removed it for safekeeping.

The barrister apparently found a safe room for the big news camera. Almost a week passed before its presence in the Crown prosecutor's office was discovered.

Girl Who Shot Ballplayer Ruled Insane

CHICAGO, June 30 (AP).—In rapid-fire disposal of legal routine, Ruth Ann Steinhagen, 19-year-old admirer who shot First Baseman Eddie Waitkus of Philadelphia-Phillies, was adjudged insane today and committed to Nankakee State Hospital.

The girl appeared in Federal Court with the man she shot. After preliminary pleadings she was bound over to the Grand Jury. A true bill was immediately voted and the indictment returned shortly after Waitkus, sitting in a wheel chair, confronted the girl for the first time since she shot him in a hotel room June 15.

Before the indictment was returned Waitkus and the girl appeared before Judge Matthew D. Hartigan who ordered her held to the Grand Jury and fixed her bond at $50,000.

Orders Demotion For Detective

TORONTO, June 30 (CP).—One of Toronto's most popular city police detectives, Det. Sgt. Arthur Keay, today was reduced to the rank of first-class constable, following a special commission investigation.

A commission report on the conduct of the 48-year-old athlete-policeman did not outline charges in view of the fact "the inquiry dealt with purely departmental discipline."

The board found some of the allegations against Keay were uncorroborated and discredited them. But the detective was found guilty of "disreputable conduct" in relation to his police duties.

The session will be called "quite early." The last Parliament voted a sufficient supply of money to cover administrative costs until the end of September. He hoped that it could be arranged so that the session could be called and a further supply of money voted before the end of September.

Fair support was noted in both grains, with shippers and mills buying oats, and shippers and processors purchasing barley.

Lethbridge Grain

How It Started

By JEAN NEWTON
"DON'T COUNT YOUR CHICKEN"
To swallow gudgeons are they're caught.
And count their chickens ere they're hatched.

Butler wrote those lines in his celebrated "Hudibras," published in 1664, he was not the inventor of the metaphor of counting one's chickens, any more than his contemporary, Ray, who included this in his volume of Proverbs: "Count not your chickens before they be hatched."
Before either of these, the Spanish Cervantes had written in his great work, "Don Quixote," dating from the first decade of the 17th century, "Many count their chickens before they are hatched; and where they expect bacon, meet with broken bones."
However, the metaphor of the farmyard seems to be the product of neither the English imagination nor the Spanish, if one is to judge by its first usage in black and white. For the great Dutch scholar, Erasmus, born in the previous century, wrote in his "Colloquia": "You reckon your chickens before they are hatched."
Perhaps the original inspiration was on the part of Ovid, the Roman poet, who flourished at the turn into

Toronto Stocks

TORONTO, June 30 (CP).—Gold stocks featured an otherwise dull pre-holiday session on the Toronto Stock Exchange. Buying demand in golds was comparatively brisk, with junior and senior producers continuing their advance for the second successive session. A few base metals tightened, while industrials held steady. Most of the activity on the board was in the golds.

Student-Built Chapel at Brentwood Transferred to Anglican Diocese

Brentwood College Chapel, built by Brentwood students, has been transferred to the Anglican Diocese of British Columbia by the trustees and governors of the college. The chapel will open for public services beginning with Morning Prayer Sunday at 10:30. Rev. Norman A. Lowe, once chaplain of the college has been appointed as priest-in-charge.

The foundation stone of the chapel was laid October 26 by Lieutenant-Governor Walter Nicol with a 30-piece Shriners Band in attendance. The Bishop of British Columbia officiated at the service while Dean

Alderman to Ask for Support In Opposing Phone Rate Hike

Ald. John Baxter declared yesterday he would ask the City Council to support him in opposing an application of the British Columbia Telephone Company for rate increases.

The company filed its application yesterday with the Board of Transport Commissioners for Canada at Ottawa.

Ald. Baxter is a member of the public utilities committee. Other members are Ald. Harold Diggon, chairman, and Ald. Frank Mulliner.

URGES OPPOSITION

Ald. Baxter said he firmly believed the entire City Council should oppose the B.C. Telephone Company's application.

He hit at the company's contention that capital to make possible the expansion and improvement of existing services can only be attracted if higher rates are approved.

"I don't see why the present users of telephones should have to pay the interest on future company expenditures as indicated in reports describing the application," declared Ald. Baxter. "Telephone users should not be asked to pay for future investments. The company should get the necessary money from additional subscribers."

PREVIOUS COMPLAINTS

Despite the company's statement that there has been no general rate increase for 28 years, he recalled there had been complaints in the past that telephone rates were too high in Victoria.

In October, 1937, he stated, City Council attempted to secure a reduction in telephone charges. A request for a conference with company officials was made in vain, he said.

Ald. Baxter said the company's practice of charging large exchanges higher rates than smaller exchanges was "not understandable."

West opened his top diamond, dummy ducked and East won with the king. East shifted to the spade ace; declarer played the king and West took the trick with the ace. Now West knocked out the diamond queen.

Club Meeting Hears Reports

Organization and committee reports took up the major portion of the supper meeting of the newly-formed Cosmopolitan Club of Victoria last night.

The club, which holds weekly meetings in the Knights of Pythias Hall, was organized in Victoria in June, and now boasts a membership of more than 25 enthusiastic business men.

Cosmopolitan is non-sectarian, non-political, and non-commercial, and fosters co-operation between its members and the community-for community good.

Its slogan is: "The Club That Builds Friendship."

As a club that builds friendship, Cosmopolitan International sponsors a newcomers committee in each club so that new families moving to the community will be introduced to their respective club, lodge and church affiliations and made to feel at home.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Hill-Tout To Make Home in Vancouver

St. John's Church, prettily decorated with Summer flowers, was the scene of the marriage of Eva-Lind, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hunter, 115 Cambridge Street, to Benjamin William Hill-Tout, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Hill-Tout, 1630 Hampshire Road, Thursday evening. Rev. George Biddle read the nuptial service and Mr. Frederick Clough played the organ interludes.

Escorted up the aisle by her father, the bride was charming in white silk tulle, fitted bodice featuring insets of lace around the scalloped neckline with lace yoke; long pointed sleeves and full skirt sweeping into a graceful train. A coronet headdress embroidered with seed pearls and beads held her long flimsy veil and she carried a white Bible topped with gardenias and stephanotis.

Mrs. R. L. Burkmar, matron of honor for her sister, was crowned in turquoise tulle styled with jacket with rolled tuxedo front; Miss Gwyneth Waterman, bridesmaid, wore a gown of the same color and material fashioned with scalloped neckline and net yoke. Both had floral headpieces duplicating the gladioli, roses and carnations in shades of pink, in their bouquets.

The bridegroom had his brothers,

Married on Mother's Birthday

Miss Marquett Emily "Rheta," eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Greig, 630 Langford Street, chose her mother's birthday, June 30, for her marriage to Steward James Alexander Park, R.C.N., eldest son of Mr. A. Park, of Winnipeg, and the late Mrs. Park, which was solemnized at an evening ceremony at First United Church by Rev. M. A. J. Waters. Pastel Summer flowers formed the setting and the guests were marked with a floral motif.

Mrs. Roberts Wood presided at the organ and during the signing of the register Mrs. N. Bertucci sang "My Dearest Love."

The pretty bride, gown in white satin styled with square neck edged with lace,illy-point sleeves and full skirt falling into a train, was given away by her father. Her Mary Stuart headdress holding the cascading veil, was trimmed with orange blossom sent by her grandparents in Scotland who had used it at their golden wedding anniversary in 1942. A single strand of pearls was her only jewelry and she carried a crescent bouquet of red roses with white carnations and true Scotch heather.

Her attendants were Miss Hannah Marie Campbell, her cousin, wearing pink tulle with floral headband and matching shoulder veil, and Miss Sheila Greig, her sister, in ovoid tulle with floral head-dress and shoulder veil to match her gown. Both carried round bouquets of pastel flowers. Miss Marilyn Greig, flower girl, wore a long frock of apple green tulle with flowers tucked in her hair, and carried a basket of Summer flowers.

The best man was Mr. Tony Gillespie, R.C.N. and ushers were Mr. Leonard Barrett and Mr. Quentin Bye.

The reception was held at the Seamen's Institute Hall, where the bride's parents and her grandmother, Mrs. J. Johnson, in the absence of the groom's father, welcomed the guests with the young couple. White candles in silver holders flanked the three-tiered cake which centred the flower-decked table. Mr. Robert Simm proposed the toast: Leaving for a honeymoon in Vancouver and Seattle, the bride wore a grey gabardine suit with rose-colored topcoat, navy hat and accessories and pink roses en corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Park will reside at 549 Lampson Street.

Gives Warning Against State Medicine

Warning against state medicine was sounded by Dr. L. M. Hurt, Los Angeles, president of the American Veterinary Medical Association, at Northwest Veterinary Association meeting at the Empress Hotel.

Veterinarians, as well as doctors, are in danger of becoming "just a number" under any system of state medicine.

NEED VETERINARIANS

Canada and the United States need more young veterinarians to battle against disease and safeguard public health and farm income, he pointed out.

Dr. Wallace R. Gunn, provincial livestock commissioner, outlined functions of the four branches of the livestock division: dairy, poultry, livestock and fur farms.

Convention was attended by 180 veterinarians and their wives from British Columbia, Washington and Oregon.

Court Fines Total $2,335 During May

Victoria police court collected $2,335 in fines during May, Chief John A. McLellan reported to the Police Commission yesterday.

A total of 607 cases were accounted for, 300 of them being parking meter convictions. There were 91 arrests during the month and 516 summonses and prepaid fines.

FOUR CARS STOLEN

Reports received for attention numbered 1,518, and four cars reported stolen and were recovered. Accidents totaled 83, 20 persons being injured. The patrol wagon made 244 runs.

Two juveniles were charged under the Indian Act, one under the Government Liquor Act, one under the Motor Vehicle Act, one charged with stealing and one adult was charged with contributing to juvenile delinquency.

City Printers To Play Host At Convention

Victoria Allied Printing Trades Council will play host this week-end to delegates from some 25 unions attending the annual Northwest Printing Trades Conference.

It will be the first time that the conference has met here.

BUSINESS SESSIONS

Business sessions will be held at 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. Sunday in the lower ballroom at Crystal Gardens. The conference will conclude Sunday evening with a dinner in the ballroom.

All members of local printing trades unions are invited to attend both business meetings and dinner. Information and reservations may be obtained from James McCague at 4681 or from Jack Chapman at 1452.

Two Victorians Rally To Defence of Piper

Two prominent Victorians have come to the defence of the Willamette Place bagpipe-playing youth.

Austin Curtis, 1050 Pentirew Place, former chairman of the Greater Victoria school board, and Kenneth Reid, 1075 Pentirew Place, superintendent of the city's bagpipe playing is "a wee bit of all right."

In a letter to the police commission yesterday, the pair regretted to hear of complaints lodged against the bagpipe player.

Bargaining Group Set For Hospital Employees

The two rival organizations now bidding to represent employees at Royal Jubilee Hospital have moved a step further in their struggle.

Names of members of a five-man bargaining committee were announced by C. W. Burr, pharmacist at the hospital and president of the recently-formed Royal Jubilee Hospital Employees' Association.

They are Robert Patrick, orderly; J. W. Gillis, assistant accountant and secretary of the association; Ernie Test, laboratory technician; John Holmes, maintenance; Mrs. Lena Irving, clerical administration.

BALLOTING HELD

Balloting took place from 7 a.m. to 10 p.m. at the Nurses' Home. Members of the Women's Auxiliary to the hospital acted as scrutineers.

Voting was open only to the "bargaining group" of the association.

Mr. Burr said.

This group comprises "approximately 225 employees, according to Mr. Burr, and does not include persons with supervisory posts or nurses and other workers already represented for bargaining purposes."

Heads of departments and nurses may belong to the association, "if they wish," officials say, but are granted only honorary memberships.

Next step for the association will be application to the Provincial Government for certification as bargaining agent for the hospital employees.

This move will follow approval at a general meeting to be held shortly of a constitution and by-laws which have been adopted by an executive committee of the association, Mr. Burr said.

PROGRESS REPORT

Meanwhile, members of the Victoria Hospital Employees' Federal Union, Local 371, (T.L.C.) met at the Labor Hall, 602 Broughton, to hear a progress report by T.L.C. organizer Tom Gooderham.

The Trades and Labor Congress charter recently granted the union was officially installed by Percy Raymond, secretary of the Victoria Trades and Labor Council.

Asked to distinguish between a "trades union" and an employee association or "company union," Mr. Gooderham termed the latter "a means of avoiding a regular union."

"They are always formed with the help, or at least, the blessing, of the employer."

"A union has the support of thou-

"As immediate neighbors of this young man we must strongly urge that he be allowed to continue. We fail to see the nuisance as he only practices for 15 minutes at the noon hour. . . . Andy Cochrane is a fine young man, and a member of the Reserve Army."

"As taxpayers we feel that if it is sands of other workers in affiliated unions.

"Company unions are never free from employer influence and therefore can never act in the regular functions of a union, such as negotiating agreements for wages or improved conditions of work."

Hospital union members have repeatedly termed the association a "company union."

They point out that their union officially came into existence prior to organization of the association.

EXPECT OPPOSITION

It is expected that the union will contest any application the association makes for certification.

A committee was appointed to study a proposal for establishment of death benefits for union members.

Uncertain Destiny

By BETTY WEBB

CHAPTER XXIX
"Save your words, darling," Linda advised lightly. Her voice was lilting, gay. Diane must never know what an effort it cost her to say gaily, "This time tomorrow night I'll be on my way—Reno-way, to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness!"

Diane ignored Linda's flippant advice. She said, "I—d like to drive out to the farm this afternoon Linda. If you're going, I suppose you have some things out there on my way—Reno-way, to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness!" Diane ignored Linda's flippant advice. She said, "I—d like to drive out to the farm this afternoon Linda. If you're going, I suppose you have some things out there on my way—Reno-way, to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness!" Diane ignored Linda's flippant advice. She said, "I—d like to drive out to the farm this afternoon Linda. If you're going, I suppose you have some things out there on my way—Reno-way, to life, lib-

GET MORE FUN out of your work, more fun out of your play by keeping yourself clean inside. Real inner cleanliness can put a new spring in your step, a brighter twinkle in your eye. So start tomorrow off with a sparkling, bubbling glass of Andrews Liver Salt.

ANDREWS is not "just another laxative"—it's a scientifically prepared saline and enema. Here's how it does its healthful work:
FIRST... Andrews cleans and refreshes the mouth and tongue.
NEXT... Andrews sweetens your stomach and corrects excess acidity.
THEN... Andrews works on the liver to check biliousness.

never see Hillacres again!" Linda had forgotten the rambling farmhouse—the spacious, countryside where she had been happy without realizing the reason for her happiness. She had a great desire to see the farm one last time.
"I'll ask Greg to drive us there," she said. "Is that all right with you?"
Diane's voice sounded relieved. "Perfectly all right. What time?"
"One o'clock ought to be all right," Linda answered. "Wear riding clothes if you want to go in the car."

Driving with Greg and Diane in the crisp, autumn afternoon, Linda tried to forget her despondency—to be gay and amusing—but her efforts were in vain. She was aware that Diane seemed unusually alert. Again and again she glanced at her wrist watch, and each passing car seemed to hold her attention until Greg said sharply, "What's the matter, Diane? You seem upset about something."

Diane's face had an expression of guilt, but she managed a shaky laugh. "I'm just embarrassed at our little threedom, I guess. It's like a moving picture triangle. Girl loves boy—I guess that means me, but boy loves another girl, meaning you, Linda and girl—"

"We're nearly there," Linda said hastily. "She was afraid of Diane's next words."

"Greg you're an angel to bring me out here."

He glanced down at her. "Your wish is my command."

"Very poetic, darling."

He swung the car into the driveway, and Linda glanced curiously at Diane, for the artist was straining forward anxiously. A moment later Linda's color drained from her face. She, too, had seen the reason for Diane's sudden anxiety. There, parked in the drive before the house was Steve's cream-colored convertible!

"I—I thought Steve was in New York!" Linda said, anguished, then a glance at Diane's relieved face affirmed her suspicions that the other girl had known Steve was back from the East. "Diane—!" she began accusingly.

"Can you imagine that!" Diane made a poor attempt at expressing surprise. "We have company." She jumped from the car, pulling Linda after her, and after a moment Greg shrugged indifferently and joined them. As they rounded the house and went in the direction of the stables, they came upon Steve, astride the horse Patricia. He stared at Diane, almost reproachfully, and then his eyes came to rest on Linda. Linda's heart beat madly; her breath came in short gasps. She had tried unsuccessfully to forget Steve, and now, seeing him again, was torturing herself. For a moment, oblivious of the others, she looked up at him, seeing how tired he appeared. How strained.

Steve then glanced at Greg with an expression of amusement.

"Good afternoon," he said civilly. "To whom do I owe the pleasure of this unexpected call?"

Linda was confused. He was looking steadily at Diane, and Linda cried out suddenly, "We—we came for one last ride before you send the horses South and I—"

Steve waved his arm in the direction of the stables. "By all means help yourselves," he said, and when Linda started after the others, he called to her.

"Yes!" She scolded herself for a sudden thrill at the sound of his voice speaking her name.

"I suppose you saw Jenkins, my lawyer, this morning?"

Linda's hopes died slowly. "Yes, Steve. You—you've been very generous. She did not tell him that she would never accept the settlement; that she had never had any intention of so doing."

"I suppose," he said, as Diane and Greg appeared with Rusty and Panfare, "you'll want Cavalier?"

For a moment Linda hesitated. She was used to the big, white horse and it was her intention to ride him, but with a reckless impulse she tossed her head.

"I'm afraid Cavalier is a trifle slow," she smiled. "I'm riding Challenger today."

Steve's face mirrored surprise and concern. "Challenger! But you've never ridden him. Linda. He's dangerous and even Mary never risks it."

Little Stories for Bedtime

SAMMY JAY SETS HIS THINKING CAP

A thinking cap's a splendid thing if you will rightly use it. The trouble with a lot of folks is that they will abuse it.

This is just one way of saying that a great many people worse than waste their time by trying to think of ways to do mean things or dishonest things. A thinking cap is—well, of course, it isn't a real honest-to-goodness cap. It is an imaginary cap. When a person is thinking very hard, we say he has on his thinking cap. I guess that more than once, when you have been puzzled by something which ought not to have puzzled you at all, someone has told you to put on your thinking cap.

Sammy Jay has a cap which sometimes seems as if it may be a real thinking cap. When you happen to meet Sammy flying about with nothing in particular on his mind, you wouldn't suspect him of having any more of a cap than any other feathered friend. But watch him when he is curious about something, or excited, or you will discover that he has a crackling, rattle, regular pointed cap. It seems then like a regular thinking cap.

The morning of the beech nut picnic, Sammy Jay was quite as busy as any of his neighbors, for Sammy is very fond of those sweet, little brown beech nuts. Moreover, Sammy is at times very thrifty. Having filled his stomach, he hides in all sorts of places such kinds of food as will keep. He was doing just that thing that beautiful October morning. He is very fond of beech nuts and like Happy Jack Silently he followed and saw Chatterer disappear in the old nest of Blacky, the Crow.

Squirrel he was making the most of the opportunity to store away a lot of them against the day when other food should be scarce. With his usual craft, he was very silent about it. His usually noisy tongue was silent. He came and went so quietly, that his neighbors, busy with their own search for the delicious goodies, took no notice of him.

Now it happened that Sammy had taken some of those sweet, little brown nuts over to a certain knot-hole in a tree not far from the very tree in which Chatterer the Red Squirrel was hiding the nuts he had stolen from Happy Jack's storehouse. Sammy had just dropped a couple of nuts in that hole when he happened to look up and catch a glimpse of Chatterer jumping from one tree to another, and he knew by Chatterer's swollen cheeks that he was taking a lot of nuts to some secret hiding place. Right away Sammy was interested. Silently he followed and saw Chatterer disappear in the old nest of Blacky the Crow.

In a minute Chatterer reappeared and started back the way he had come, and that way was not in the direction of the beech trees. Right then and there Sammy set his thinking cap. He was interested. He was suspicious, and that crest on his head was promptly raised.

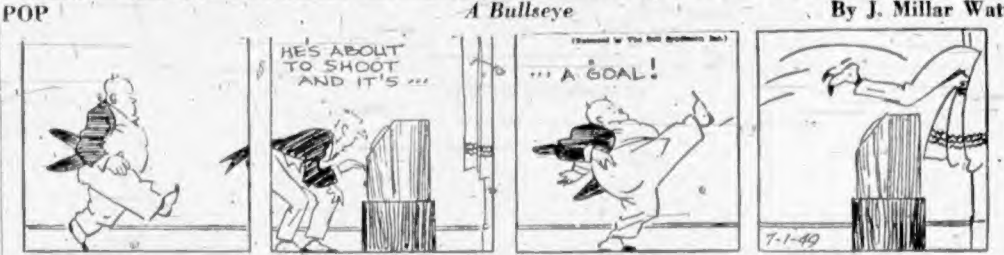

"Now what does that mean?" thought Sammy. "That red-coated thief is getting those nuts somewhere and he isn't going toward those beech trees at all. If I know anything about it, he is stealing those nuts. I think I'll watch him a bit and find out."

So taking care not to make a sound, and equal care not to show himself, he followed Chatterer the Red Squirrel and in this way he discovered what Chatterer was about.

Next Story: It takes a thief to catch a thief.

Shopping Hour Plan Fails to Ring Bell

LADYSMITH, June 30.—A line an eye on levels at the dam in order to carry out rock work there as soon as possible.

TO ERECT CENOTAPH
Ald. Battle anticipated that adding eight to ten feet more of pipe to the sewer outlet near the Comox boom grounds, at low tide, would carry effluent further out into the channel to eliminate aggravating conditions. The arrangement was considered satisfactory.

Mayor Leonard Ryan declared by-law was not good unless lived up to. Complaints had been voiced, he said, regarding certain violations. Acting upon motion of Ald. J. Morris, R. S. Wood, city clerk, will forward copies of by-laws to all retail stores with a rider that certain penalties would be imposed for non-observance of regulations.

The city clerk's report on the Municipal Officers' Association convention, with special reference to consideration of acts affecting municipal policies and procedures, was received and filed.

The council approved the action of Ald. T. Bertram and Ald. A. T. Vercherre arranging for the purchase of a used D-4 Mohlbador at a reasonable price on terms. The aldermen, with D. Brown, city truck driver, inspected the machine at Vancouver prior to purchase. The matter of charges for renting out the machine was left to the property and works committee to bring in a recommendation.

Ald. R. Battle, chairman of the public works committee, said the Cenotaph would be erected next week with the aid of logging equipment. Pouring of cement, entailing the widening of the sidewalk on Gatacre Street, will start next Thursday.

The waterworks foreman is keeping Associate with those who give you pleasure. Keep the peace on the domestic scene.

Set Ceremony At Courtenay
COURTENAY, June 30.—Highlighting the city's Dominion Day celebration will be the official opening of the Courtenay and district memorial swimming pool, built at a cost of $10,000 and only completed Wednesday night.

The pool will be dedicated on Tuesday night by the Rev. Frank Henderson, padre of the Courtenay Branch, Canadian Legion, with members of the Legion stationed at each corner.

An added attraction will be a pillow fight on a plank laid over the pool between W. B. McCusker, editor of The Comox District Free Press, and W. C. Moore, typewriter operator for the same weekly, who conducted a running battle in the weeks leading up to the provincial and federal elections.

The bickering erupted in print last week when, in a letter to the editor, Mr. Moore accused the newspaper of failing to give adequate publicity to the G.C.P. Party while loading its columns with "free enterprise propaganda."

The billing for this part of the ceremony states the loser will be "definitely proved all wet."

Other features of the day will be the traditional parade down the city's main street, novelty and sports events for children, and a firemen's display at Lewis Park. Vancouver Citadel Band will be in attendance at the park.

PORT ALBERNI, June 30.—Ball bonds were set here at $5,000 each in the case of Nick Chokan and Patrick John Creen, charged with wounding with a knife in last Tuesday night's Seaplane Union battle at Port Alberni. Donald McCallister, a resident of Alberni, is also held, but is free on his own recognizance.

S. Lake Canlin failed last Wednesday night. S. Trilind will sell at 7 p.m. Thursday.

Druggist Dies At Courtenay
COURTENAY, June 30.—Frank Grummett, 80, president of the Courtenay Drug Company, succumbed to a heart attack early Thursday morning.

Mr. Grummett came to Courtenay in 1945 from Vancouver, where he was associated with the Cunningsham Drug Company for a number of years. At Courtenay, his chief interest lay in guiding the affairs of the local branch of the Canadian Cancer Society. He was a Mason for 26 years, and a member of Glen Temple.

Born in Crystal City, Man. he moved with his family to Trail in 1916. He served overseas with the R.C.A.M.G. in the Great War. After the war he took his pharmacy degree at Vancouver in 1920, and spent six years in Alberta before returning to Vancouver in 1928.

ficer-in-charge of the Central Pay Division.

His next appointment was to H.M.C.S. Giverny at Esplanade, as secretary to the Commanding Officer Pacific Coast, a post he held until September, 1948, when he went to the United Kingdom for a staff course. He has held the acting rank of commander (S) since December 1, 1946.

The 30-foot cruiser Valpan, built by G. M. Lane, of 322 Francis Avenue, in his spare time over the past two and a half years, was launched in Inner Harbor waters from the Bay Street plant of V.M.D. late yesterday afternoon.

Built with cedar planking, the Valpan is powered by a 110-horsepower Chrysler marine engine, and will do between 10 and 12 knots. She has sleeping accommodation for four persons.

The craft was built in Mr. Lane's backyard, and was transported to the launching site by truck. Its owner plans spending spare time of the next month finishing and fitting the vessel as the new fisherman's float in the Inner Harbor.

NOTICE MARINERS
T. E. Morrison, local agent for the Department of Transport, yesterday issued the following notices to mariners:

The fog alarm at Amphitrite Point will be synchronized with the radio beacon without further notice. The characteristic will be three blasts of three-second duration every minute, and on every third minute will be a synchronized signal of a short blast followed by a long blast of five seconds.

Middle Bank spar buoy, No. 6, in Nanaimo harbor, is reported missing, and will be replaced as soon as possible.

NAVY JOBS REGATTA
Vessels of the Royal Canadian Navy from the Esquimalt naval base will take part in the Pacific International Yachting Association regatta, to be held at Bellingham through July 1 to 4. It was learned yesterday.

Today the target-towing vessel Lakewood will leave the local base for Bellingham, and will assist in the transportation of local entries in the international regatta. The H.M.C.S. Sauli Ste. Marie, headquarters and training ship for Victoria's reserve naval division H.M.C.S. Malahat, will also participate in the sailing and yachting regatta. She is scheduled to leave for the Puget Sound port early today.

A considerable number of entries are expected to compete in the P.I.Y.A. program from Victoria and other island centres. Several sailing and power craft of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club will enter the races.

MOTORSHIP LOADING
The motorship Riley, from Newcastle, England, was at Nanaimo yesterday taking on a lumber cargo of 516,000 board feet for Greece. She was tied up at the Government Assembly Wharf.

INTERESTING RACE
Once again Skipper H. W. Miller will leave this city in his trim cruiser Dawn to participate in one of the most interesting cruiser races of the Pacific Northwest.

Representing the Royal Victoria Yacht Club, he will be on the starting line early July 8 at Olympia, Wash., when the International Power Boat Association starts its race from that port to Nanaimo. With him as a crew will be his wife and daughters, May and Irene.

STRENUOUS AFFAIR
This year's race promises to be far more strenuous than previous annual events, of the power boat association as distances involved are longer, and the race program has been divided into two sections. Olympia to Nanaimo is the first portion of the event—covering approximately 175 miles. From the Island city the race will be continued for many vessels—to Juneau, Alaska, a distance of about 700 miles.

Conditions and rules of the race are very exacting. Close to 150 power vessels will participate in the race, and of that total, at least 20 will continue on to Juneau. The United States Coast Guard will provide patrol vessels for the course, and will be assisted by a vessel of the Royal Canadian Navy.

Deadline finish time at Nanaimo has been set for 6 p.m. (D.S.T.) of July 9. It will be a predicted log event.

SHIP WEATHERS BLOW
The passenger vessel Keenora was disclosed yesterday to have weathered a severe blow on Lake Winnipeg without difficulty, continuing her cruise in Norway House at the northern end of the lake.

The Keenora put in at Berens River undamaged Wednesday after the six-hour gale, which whipped up waves that rose to 30 feet around the island of Hecla. The island is 100 miles north of Winnipeg and the Keenora had been another 100 miles north when the storm struck.

The waves swamped three fishing boats tied up along the pier at the shore village of Hecla but it was expected that they would be raised easily. Only person reported stranded by the gale was Gordon Hirst of Riverton, who was piloting a mail boat. He took his boat into a natural harbor.

FEAR DOCK STRIKE
Police and waterfront officials are on guard at New Westminster against possible trouble between the rival Canadian Seamen's Union and Seafarers' International Union groups.

The Eastern Canadian freighter St. Roch was ordered out to midstream Wednesday night after officials heard rumors of a battle pending between the rival seamen. Three seamen were taken to police headquarters but were released later.

The Rockside, manned by a S.I.U. crew, has been leading a tugboat in the Fraser River port.

SET TRADE ZONES
Establishment of foreign-trade zones at Los Angeles and Seattle has been authorized, Commerce Secretary Charles Sawyer announced yesterday at Washington.

This will bring the number of these "free port" areas to five. The others are at New York, New Orleans and San Francisco.

Foreign-trade zones are segregated port areas where importers may deposit foreign merchandise for storage or processing without payment of customs duties, unless the merchandise later is moved into the United States proper.

COST OF REPAIRS
A survey of damage to the hull of the Magnificent, now in drydock at Saint John, N.B., indicates it will cost "somewhat less" than $275,000, the Navy said yesterday at Ottawa.

The big aircraft carrier entered the drydock June 18 after stunning ground off Halifax.

The survey, under supervision of Cmdr. C. V. Green, manager of the construction department at H.M.C. Dockyard, Halifax, indicates it will be necessary to replace 26 plates in the ship's hull which were damaged beyond repair.

The damage extends over approximately 170 feet of the carrier's bottom.

Churchill Well Liked In U.S. Declares Speaker

Many persons regard Winston Churchill as a great man, but one of his greatest admirers is Louis J. Alber—world traveler, author and speaker from Cleveland, Ohio.

Mr. Alber spoke to the Rotary Club at the Empress Hotel yesterday, and told of "How an American Looks at Winston Churchill." If he had gone through the dictionary forward and backward, he couldn't have found enough words in praise of the British statesman and war-time leader.

FRIEND OF AMERICA
"Churchill towers above the prominent men of the world... his plans of the future will give him first place... he is the staunchest and most understanding friend that America has... he is the living symbol of essential unity among English-speaking peoples of the world."

It was the exceptional abilities of Churchill that brought unity to the fighting spirit of democratic nations during the recent war, the speaker said.

It was Mr. Alber who served as Churchill's manager when the latter conducted an intensive speaking tour of the United States in 1933, and the address presented yesterday touched upon many interesting highlights of that period. Mr. Churchill agreed to conduct the tour for $50,000 in American gold, and all expenses paid.

FINANCIAL REVERSES
He was glad to accept the offer "financial reverses" due to the United States' depression.

It was during that tour that Churchill was seriously injured in an automobile accident in New York City.

In describing the characteristics of the British wartime leader, Mr. Alber said those of Churchill were "clean cut and sharply defined... he's all one piece... you never have any misunderstandings about that man. He's impatient... always in a hurry."

This impatience, the speaker said, was at one time regarded by the English people as a weakness and a fault. "But they soon changed their minds when they saw Mr. Churchill's wartime efforts."

"Churchill—Britain's man of destiny—has God's greatest gift to man... personality."

STRONG PERSONALITY
Mr. Alber said Churchill's personality was so strong that "it smothered men into silence."

When the former British Prime Minister visited the United States, he arrived in New York with special instructions from Scotland Yard to the effect he was not to appear in certain American cities, where it had been confirmed there were plots to assassinate him. Throughout his entire tour, he was protected by a bodyguard of Scotland Yard and United States Secret Service personnel. A small army of plainclothesmen were on hand at every meeting he addressed.

The would-be assassins, Mr. Alber explained, were groups of Asiatic peoples. One such group existed in San Francisco, while another was known to be operating in Detroit.

In conclusion, the speaker said Churchill was still regarded as an outstanding leader among freedom-loving peoples of the world.

City Making Thorough Check-Up Of Pollution at Two Beaches

The city will press to conclusion investigation of sewage pollution at Ross and Poul Bay Beaches before recommending to council necessary steps to remove the danger of contamination. Alderman Dr. J. D. Hunter, chairman of the public works committee, disclosed yesterday.

It was stated that both Dr. J. L. Gayton, medical health officer, and Cyril Jones, city engineer, had agreed studies should be continued in order to establish definitely that the Clover Point sewer outlet is the major cause of the trouble.

MAY BE OTHER SOURCES
If it is proved to be the chief trouble-maker, it is believed the committee will recommend installation of a "commutator" at Clover Point to chew up solids in the sewage effluent. It was explained that other sources of contamination may exist. One such source is believed to have been overcome since it was found an overflow has existed in the east branch of the sewer running through Ross Bay cemetery. The overflow permitted sewage to run out of the sewer into a nearby storm drain and down on to the beach.

Meanwhile the medical health officer is conducting bi-weekly tests of the waters of Ross and Poul Bays.

"BUY A LOAF TO-DAY"

In order to note any change in the degree of pollution.

At the same time the city engineer is endeavoring to test the line of flow of water away from the Clover Point sewer outlet. It was stated that point of doubt has existed that solids from the Clover Point outlet were being carried back on the beaches. It is to settle this point that adjacent currents are being tested.

Small sections of wood are being tossed at intervals into the water at Clover Point. The direction in which they float is expected to disclose the course of the existing currents. On Wednesday 50 sections of wood, painted a blue color, were put in the water near the sewer outlet. Red floats will be used next week so that if any current variations exist they may be traced.

BOY SCOUTS TO HELP
City Boy Scouts have offered to scour the beaches east and west of Clover Point on the lookout for the floats should they be washed up. A report on the "float test" is expected within ten to 14 days.
